HELPFUL TIPS

NOMINEE PORTRAIT

The portrait you submit is VERY important. Head and shoulders only, preferred. If an action photo must be used (nominee on a horse, etc.) be sure the nominee is prominent and recognizable in the photograph. If your nominee is inducted, the signature portrait you submit will be prominently displayed on the wall in the Hall of Honorees as well as permanently programmed into the kiosk. It will also be used in induction promotion, in newspapers and online.

It's preferred that you send a high-resolution, digitized portrait. Professional scans should be jpeg or tiff format, at least 5x7" at 300ppi. If sending a hard copy (print), make sure it measures at least 5x7", but no more than 8x10".

NOMINEE BIO

Like the portrait, the biography you submit is VERY important. If your nominee is inducted, the information you submit will be displayed on the wall in the Hall of Honorees as well as permanently programmed into the kiosk. It will also be used in induction promotion, in newspapers and online.

When you write the bio, think about people reading it 50 or 100 years from now. Assume they don't know anything about your nominee. Future generations will be learning about your nominee from you.

Write in the 3rd person. Stick with provable facts; avoid opinions and/or emotional statements. Biographies are subject to editing by NDCHF staff, at our discretion.

Provide bio in digitized format (Word doc, Text editor) on flash drive or other removable media (CD/DVD). Please do not email the bio to NDCHF Staff. It must be submitted along with your nomination form and binder.

WHAT HAPPENS NEXT?

The NDCHF nominating committee will screen all submissions for historical accuracy and forward eligible nominees to the Board of Directors. An initial vote by the Board of Directors will determine the final ballot, which is delivered by mail to each NDCHF Trustee for a final vote. Trustees return their completed ballots in April.

Votes are counted by an impartial CPA firm, with the results submitted to NDCHF administrators. Those selected for induction to the Hall of Honorees must receive at least 50 percent of the total votes cast by the trustees. The number of inductees will not exceed the limit set by the Board of Directors.

Nominees selected for induction will be announced at the annual NDCHF Season Premiere.
